

The University System of Georgia

- The System is composed of four research universities, two regional universities, thirteen state universities, two state colleges, and thirteen two-year colleges.

- The University System is governed, controlled, and managed by a Board of Regents appointed by the Governor.

- The Board of Regents is composed of sixteen members, five of whom are from state-at-large and one from each of the eleven congressional districts.

- The Chancellor is elected by the Board as its chief executive officer and the chief administrative officer of the University System.

The Chair, Vice Chair, and other officers of the Board of Regents are elected by the members of the Board. The Chancellor, who is not a Board member, is the chief executive officer of the Board and the chief administrative officer of the University System.

The overall programs and services of the University System are offered through three major components: Instruction, Public Service/Continuing Education, Research.

INSTRUCTION consists of programs of study leading toward degrees, ranging from the associate (two-year) level to the doctoral level, and certificates.

Standards for admission of students to instructional programs at each institution are determined, pursuant to policies of the Board of Regents, by the institution. The Board establishes minimum standards and leaves to each institution the prerogative to establish higher standards. Applicants for admission should be addressed to the institutions.

PUBLIC SERVICE/CONTINUING EDUCATION consists of non-degree activities, primarily, and special types of college degree credit courses. The non-degree activities include programs such as short courses, seminars, conferences, and consultative and advisory services in many areas of interest. Typical college degree credit courses are offered through extension center programs and teacher education consortiums.

RESEARCH encompasses scholarly investigations conducted for discovery and application of knowledge. Most of the research is conducted through the universities; however, some of it is conducted through several of the senior colleges. The research investigations cover matters related to the educational objectives of the institutions and to general research societal needs.

The policies of the Board of Regents provide autonomy of high degree for each institution. The executive head of each institution is the President, whose selection is recommended by the Chancellor and approved by the Board. State appropriations for the University System are requested by, made to, and allocated by the Board of Regents.
